STRATHMORE NEEDS MORE HOUSES

Strathmore badly needs at least six more comfortably planned, moderate priced houses. It is regrettable that we have to turn a deaf ear to anxious enquirers after homes in our town.

We have several vacant lots that would make ideal locations for an attractive apartment house comprising four to six suites — or if more feasible a similar number of cosy moderately priced bungalow-type houses.

Have we in our midst some citizen or group of citizens who could finance such a project and plan it on a financial basis by which they could reap a fair interest in return for their expenditure?

The latest new business addition to our town was the Office of the Wheatland School Division, and all will agree that is a beneficial acquisition in more ways than one.

One never knows when some new organization could be induced to locate here, could we offer attractive housing accommodation and the loss in Strathmore if for this reason they are forced to pass us up?

What do you about it Mr. Citizen?

HATS OFF TO SASKATCHEWAN'S MINISTER OF EDUCATION!

A radio message Wednesday morning announced the new ruling to be instituted at once in S.K. The Minister of Education has decreed that each school in the Province must commence the day's programme by raising the flag and singing God Save the King and close by lowering the flag and singing O Canada.

We heartily approve.

We would like to see Alberta's Minister Premier Abernethy do likewise.

Any teacher or any pupil who is not willing to conform to the above ruling while making his livelihood and reaping the benefit of the laws of our land, should be deported to the land with which he is more agree.

Weddings

WALLS — McDONALD

Antigonish, Oct. 8 — A simple, but very pretty wedding took place at St. Agnes church, Halifax, Monday morning when Miss Elizabeth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Macdonald, Antigonish, became the bride of L. A. C. Wilson, Charles Walls, RCAF of Dartmouth, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Henry Walls, Strathmore, Alberta. Rev. Father Graham performed the marriage ceremony and celebrated nuptial mass. The bride was a charming figure in her street length wool costume of blue with grey accessories, and wearing a corsage of roses, she carried a white prayer book. The bridesmaid was her sister, Alice. The groomsmen were Raymond Havigant, RCAF.

After the wedding breakfast the young couple left on a motor trip in the eastern part of the province, after which they will reside in Dartmouth.

The bride was for a time on the staff of MacKenna's drug store, Antigonish, going from there to the Quimp's road store of act-and and Balcon, Halifax, before her marriage the bride was the guest of honor at several parties, the largest of these being a shower given for her at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. MacKenna, Antigonish.

By the way, what became of all those $120,000 of farm implement repairs bought by Abernethy last year? enquires the Carleton Place Press. It's a cinch the farmers didn't buy them! Take the $120,000 and the $100,000 squandered on the treasury branches, and it would build nearly 500 miles of blower surface on our highways.

RED CROSS NOTES

RED CROSS BRIDGE PARTY

The second in the series of Red Cross Bridge Parties was held last night in the Memorial Hall. Seventeen tables were in play, a number contributing who were unable to attend. Winners of scores were: Miss Gerry Van Tighem and Mr. Tom Wright, who Mr. and Mrs. Hansen were awarded the consolation.

A Bingo booth was arranged which added to the net proceeds of the evening.

Carceland

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford McElbreen, Missionaries home on a year's tour from Nigeria, Africa held the close interest of all who gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. McElbreen, Wednesday, October 17th. Mr. and Mrs. McElbreen have spent 10 years in the Lepor Colony in Nigeria, and their experience proved most interesting. Mr. McElbreen is working among the boys of the district, instructing them in improved methods of farming. They sang a duet and the Hornsby Brothers contributed a vocal duet, both of which were much enjoyed. Friends were present from Langdon and Carceland.

Mrs. Standish has taken rooms in Calgary for the winter while her daughter is attending Normal school. The annex built by the A. P. and Pool Elevators are now complete and will allow storage for 60,000 additional bushels of wheat. The weather is fine and all farmers are making full use of the spell of good weather.

We are sorry to say that Leona Field, 12 year old daughter of Glen Field has been a patient in the Holy Cross Hospital for several days, under X-ray treatment.

The Alberta Wheat Pool has just completed quite extensive repairs to the home of their Carceland Agent, Mr. P. A. Crowe. A new cement basement has been poured, and improvements are much appreciated.

Teachers Conventions

More than 5,000 will attend Conventions soon.

Edmonton. About 6,000 school teachers will attend 12 teachers' conventions in various parts of Alberta. J. W. Barnett, secretary of the Alberta Teachers' Association announced.

REFUNDING HALF CENT BUSHEL ON DELIVERED WHEAT

In face of the emergency situation brought about through the quota on deliveries of farmers' wheat at country elevators, all line elevators have issued instructions to their agents to increase the price for all grades of Board street wheat by one half cent per bushel, effective immediately, according to a statement issued today by A. C. Reid, president of the North-West Line Elevators Association.

In addition to increasing the price by one half cent per bushel the line elevator companies will refund one half cent per bushel to all farmers who have delivered Board street wheat to line elevators since August 1st.

Everything comes to him who waits — if he hustles while he waits.

An RCAF ensign has been designed to provide a distinctive flag for the Royal Canadian Air Force. The new ensign was designed at RCAF headquarters and will be flown in Canada and overseas. Any place where the RCAF is stationed, the main part of the flag is sky blue, with the Union Jack in the upper left hand corner. The outside circle is dark blue with a white ball-and-peg and a red maple leaf in the centre.

VISIT OF THE DISTRICT GOVERNOR TO LIONS

A regular meeting of the Strathmore Lions Club was held October 17 with District Governor T. A. Harkness a special guest of the evening.

District Governor Harkness addressed the meeting and gave a very fine description of various activities of the International Convention held in Havana, Cuba in July of this year. He also spoke of the District Convention to be held at the Many Glaciers Hotel, Glacier Park in June of 1941.

The latter part of the District Governor's address was confined to the aims of the Club and he struck a responsive note with the local club.

The Club have decided to hold a series of bridge parties with a prize each night and a cumulative prize for the grand total winner at the end of the series.

BROOKS SCHOOL TO TRAIN FARMERS

Brooks High School pupils are to receive vocational training in agriculture. This is the first time the experiment has been tried in Alberta and W. R. Hanson, recently of the experimental station at Swift Current, will initiate the venture.

LEADER HANSON CREATED HIS OWN DOWNFALL

R. B. Hanson by his astounding indiscretion has shown himself unworthy of the position he held. If he were playing politics, the axe has fallen on his own neck.

NEW STYLES

The newly installed preacher paid his first parish call on the weathermen in town.

Ab, he remarked pleasantly, I see your dear son and daughter awaiting us on top perch.

No, said the host. The girl in the elevator comes by my mother, and the young fellow in riding breeches is my wife.

People love to worry. We often find ourselves worrying about affairs that are none of our business.

The Prairies

I used to hate the prairies
When I came ten years ago—
So bare and flat, so unadorned,
No mountains capped with snow.

No hills, no shady valleys.
No little peaks on high—
Just stubble fields and straw stacks,
And sloughs with alkali.

I hated the dreary winters,
The singing wind, and oh,
How I'd begin to shiver
At forty-five below!

Summer's dream, I'd hope again
For warmth, cheer and joy
But dust and storm poured at me,
My heart they would annoy.

So time passed, and gradually,
I grew acclimated;
I love and understand it now,
Its breadth and mood and size.

ALBERTA LOSS FROM FIRE

Alberta's fire losses during 1939 were $1,148,264, or slightly more than 1 per cent of the total fire losses in Canada, which amounted to $24,632,509, according to an announcement by the Western Canada Insurance Underwriters' Association in connection with Fire Prevention Week which was observed throughout the province from October 6 to 12.

Fire losses in Alberta during the past five years have averaged $1,455,011, per year, and during 1939 losses amounting to $765,835 were covered by insurance while the remainder, $689,176 was a total loss to owners through lack of coverage against fire. Of the total fire loss in Canada during 1939 of $24,632,509, approximately $19,179,000 were covered by insurance against fire while $5,453,509 was unprotected.

CANADA'S GREATEST EXPORT PRODUCT

If among the questions asked by Dr. Gallup in his hypothetical survey of Canada was one asking the public to name the principal Canadian export product, the answer would be overwhelmingly in favor of wheat. Against the answer would be overwhelmingly in favor of wheat. Against the answer would be overwhelmingly in favor of wheat.

Canadian wheat provides food for a large proportion of the world's population, but Canadian wheat is the means by which an equally large number of the world's population is kept informed of new developments.

Gold, nickel, copper, automobiles, wheat, flour and a host of other products are commonly believed to be our ranking trading media with the nations of the world. They are important, but not nearly so important as wheat. The latter is bread and shoulders above all other products.

The relative standing of the more important Canadian export commodities is set out in the following list:

A late lark twitters from the quiet skies;
And from the west,
Where the sun, his day's work ended,
Lingers as in content,
Thence falls on the old, grey city
An influence luminous and serene,
A shining peace.

The smoke ascended
In a rosy and golden haze. The spires
Shine and are changed. In the valley
Shadows rise. The lark sings on. The sun,

Closing his benediction,
Sinks, and the darkening air
Thrills with a sense of the triumph-
ing night—
Night with her train of stars
And her great gift of sleep.

So be my passing!
My task accomplished and the long
day done,
My wages taken, and in my heart
Some late lark singing.
Let us be gathered to the quiet west,
The sundown splendid and serene.
Death.

A CHALLENGE TO CANADIANSEMERGENCY CALL!

From the shores of our Motherland comes an appeal for help which no true Canadian can fail to heed. While we live in comfort, death drops on that embattled island. The need for Red Cross assistance is urgent. Our sons and brothers are over there. On land, at sea, in the air, they face death daily. We must be prepared to help them when they are sick or wounded.

Red Cross help is needed on behalf of soldier and civilian alike. Hospitals and hospital equipment, surgical supplies and dressings, ambulances and X-Ray equipment will be needed. Overnight the need may become so urgent that lives may be sacrificed if help cannot be sent at once.

Never before has there been so great a need for Red Cross assistance. This challenge to humanity must be answered. Give to the Red Cross. Give to the utmost NOW!

ST. PAUL'S CATHEDRAL AND
LIEUT. ROBERT DAVIES

THERE HAS BEEN NO evidence in recent years that Britain has produced an artist of individual genius of the quality of Wren, in succession to Wren. Such genius is rare; its appearance can not be determined or predicted. But there will be such geniuses again sooner or later. They are not in stones and mortar, but in human flesh, and are fostered by living society; and when they appear they will appear from among the children saved from bombs and nurtured by a society intelligent enough to understand that human life and not dead stones and mortar is what is irreplaceable. Lieut. Davies is no Philistine; he is a wise young man. That he and his like are now engaged in war instead of in humane constructions is the tragedy of our time. Canada may take pride in his sense of values. His moral courage in asserting his intelligent, unselfish, critical opinions is perhaps even greater than his physical courage in killing a time bomb or hauling it alive to a distant site. Such young men are our salvation whether in war or peace.

Mr. Fallow said he was continuing to urge the advantages of the "interior" route to Alaska, while this was justified all the more by the reports of new and valuable mineral discoveries in the North country.

In some quarters it has been suggested that the road from Grimsby to Great Slave Lake would link up with a possible highway across the far north to Alaska.

which he is receiving indicates growing support for the claim that the route of the proposed U. S. highway to Alaska should run through Alberta, Mr. Fallow said.

"This is growing support for this route, especially in the eastern states," said the minister. "Many of these people realize when looking at a map that it is almost a direct line from Chicago by way of Winnipeg and Saskatoon through Edmonton to Fairbanks, Alaska."

WESTERN CANADA'S WHEAT PROBLEM

It is a very bewildering problem that is facing Canadian Farmers, Grain Companies and Government alike as to what to do with this year's harvest and the large surplus that must be carried over. At first hand, farmers are having a very trying time in getting the wheat harvested in marvellous condition. The broken weather and excessive rainfall in this part of the Province is making it very difficult, while each set back lowers the grade.

It seems somewhat of a paradox that wheat which is the source of the "staff of life" should be the cause of such a difficult and puzzling situation.

To help solve the problem Mr. Cecil Lamont of The Grain and Milling Co. of Winnipeg advises the uses of chemistry in solving Canada's great agriculture problem.

It is becoming more evident from year to year that the government can't keep on guaranteeing the farmers a certain price for their wheat. Sooner or later the government will become financially mired in the wheat business. Some other way should be found to solve the problem.

Mr. Lamont says: "No one can say, as yet, just what new uses might be discovered for wheat. Wheat has definite qualities all its own. It research can find a use for as much wheat as it has found for corn and soy beans, a great step will have been taken in dealing with our wheat problem. The removal of the surplus production of this commodity in years in which they arise would do much to strengthen the price and thereby react to the benefit of the farmer and Canada as a whole."

"Cotton seeds, once a waste product, had a value last year of $200,000,000. Cotton linters are now used in making rayon auto fabrics, and upholstery. Golf balls, hair brushes, combs, electric insulators and safety glass are now made from products of the farm."

Some of England's finest fleece comes from the Orkney and Shetland islands where sheep feed on seaweed.

MATRON-IN-CHIEF VISITS PETAWAWA.

AN ESSAY ON "THE HAND"
by D. Y.

Since the present is ever dominant let us take a modern example. Civilized countries in Europe today are experiencing the same retardation of human progress through the misuse of the hand. It is being used for radios, lines, tanks, airplanes. The cause is not barbaric customs or fumes, but the Nazis. The leader not Alaric but one Hitler.

We must say to ourselves, "The hand must be used to produce constructive, not destructive things, must materialize constructive, not destructive ideas."

In the thirteenth century man once more used his hand to make real his ideas of art, science and literature.

Architecture, literature, music and painting were reborn.

Religion entered his thoughts. He dreamt of a shrine for worship with great arches pointing toward God. He used his hand to build the Gothic arch. How well his hand gave vent to his mind. When we see Milan Cathedral, Notre Dame, Rheims, the Cathedral of Cologne, and the modern church of St. John the Divine in New York we can interpret the ideas of the creators of the Gothic arch. As the man said "Gothic architecture is frozen music made such by the human hand."

The art, literature and music of medieval times are the shadows of ideas of man of that time. The great thoughts of men are given to every one of every age by the use of his hand. Leonardo da Vinci transferred the genius of his mind to us through his hand.

Following the Renaissance we arrive at the great Industrial Revolution. What great use man made of his hand! The great ideas which flooded his mind were materialized.

Edison's dream of the phonograph, Franklin's dream of electricity, Morse's idea of the code, Bell's telephone, Whitney's cotton gin and so many other ideas were realized by man's hand. Can we imagine ourselves without them? Can we imagine ourselves "without hands?"

Beethoven, Mozart, Liszt, Handel, all had a dream of music, which would mean so much to the world. They went to a piano, touched it with their hands, and wrote it with their hands, and gave it to us. We received their musical genius because they used their hand in combination with their brain.

In the field of literature we find that William Shakespeare in the sixteenth century, and Bernard Shaw in the twentieth each expressed themselves through the medium of writing. Speech does not perpetuate it. The use of the hand does.

So now we have traced man's use of his hand to the present. There is no pulse so sure of the state of the world as its scientific and artistic products originated in the mind and produced and perpetuated by the hand. Each century, each civilization has demonstrated the power of the hand through the serious effort of humanity to be civilized. Since men of all ages have used their hand to perpetuate and materialize their ideas, ages have come into existence again. How very abstract are all man's ideas, genius or idiot though he may be, until he instinctively uses his hand to convert a vision into a reality.
